Recap: Curator Talk for Exhibition Tour in Japan: Masterpieces from the Japanese Painting Collection

Dr. Andreas Marks

On Thursday, May 20th, JASM held a curator talk about the Minneapolis Institute of Art's (Mia) exhibit of masterpieces from their Japanese painting collection, currently touring Japan. This talk was presented by the head curator for the exhibit, Dr. Andreas Marks, who is the Mary Griggs Burke curator and head of the Japanese and Korean art department at Mia.

This tour featuring some of Mia's Japanese works, organized by the Yomiuri Shimbun, was six years in the making. It features scrolls, woodblock prints, and sliding doors, many from the Edo Period (1603-1867). This landmark exhibit will travel to four different art museums across Japan. The first and current location for the exhibit is the Suntory Museum of Art in Tokyo, which opened to more than 400 attendees at the preview. Of course, the current pandemic situation has made things difficult: Mia had to send over the art without anyone accompanying it! The exhibit will continue at Suntory until June 17th before heading to Fukushima, Shiga, and Yamaguchi, through April 2022.

Dr. Marks was glad to share a couple of promotional videos with us, both of which were very high in quality, showing even more how much work went into presenting these masterpieces from Mia. After discussing the art at length, from Hokusai prints to the sliding door paintings of Kanō Sanraku, Dr. Marks presented the complicated layouts needed for setup, stating that "setting up the walkthrough is like telling a story." The talk ended with Q&A, which focused mainly on transporting delicate works of art.

Mia is a JASM corporate member and we are, of course, always grateful for their wonderful support. We wish Dr. Marks and everyone at Mia the best of luck with the continuing exhibition tour.

Upcoming: Edamame Champ 全米エダマメ選手権

#EDAMAMECHAMP is an annual spring campaign to promote healthy eating through Japanese cuisine, focusing on soy. It also raises funds for teaching healthy eating to more children. We are joining our friends at Table for Two and Japan America Society of Boston for #EdamameChamp on Saturday, June 5 at 4 p.m. (CDT). Join us to learn about healthy Japanese cuisine and enjoy some fun challenges using edamame!

This is a free event. Part of the donation to this event will be presented to Table for Two.

- Event Part 1: Presentation about Soy
- Event Part 2: Edamame Chopstick Competition*
- Event Part 3: Cooking Class Using Soy (Miso Ramen)
 You will receive the ingredient list for Miso Ramen before the event.

The more participants at this event, the more support Table for Two will receive from the partner organizations! Please join us and invite your friends and families.

*This is a virtual event to challenge your chopsticks skills.
Please prepare two plates, chopsticks, and a couple of edamame pods. If you don't have edamame, you can use any kind of beans.

Message from Executive Director Rio Saito

Rio Satio JASM Executive Director

Time has really flown by and now we already are halfway through 2021. We have been spending this unique time together and JASM is grateful to still be here, building community with you. Thank you to everyone who has been joining our events and supporting us. 2021 has already been full of adventures for JASM. For the first time, with the wonderful help of a committee and high school and college Japanese language teachers, we held

J-Quiz online. We were not able to have our annual Shinnenkai/New Year's celebration, but we put together an online Shinshunkai in spring. And we are still having two online events per month. If there is a topic you are interested to learn or hear about, please let us know.

It is still difficult to think about the passing of Ambassador Mondale. We lost a great leader and friend of our community. Every time I was with Mr. Mondale, I felt like I was a bodyguard because he was such a popular person. It was difficult to move from one place from another without being surrounded by people who wished to greet him. He was so nice that he spent time with many of them. Mr. Mondale exemplified benevolence and inspired us all to be better. JASM will continue to follow his legacy and we hope that he is smiling upon us.

The year 2022 will be the 50th anniversary of Japan America Society of Minnesota. We have begun planning a yearlong celebration. We are so grateful for people who came before us and built this community. We would like to look back and learn about the leaders and efforts made, to respect and appreciate the history of JASM. At the same time, we are excited to look ahead and see what JASM can become over the next 50 years. Since I have been with JASM for just four years now, I would love to hear from people who have stories from back in the day. Please feel free to share your stories with us.

Our environment has been changing drastically, especially this past year or so. JASM has also been evolving and growing.

There is a Japanese saying (from China, I'm sure): 温故知新. By studying the past, we can discover new things. In order for us to fully enjoy our 50th anniversary and grow from learning our history, there is a lot of work to do. But we're planning on a big comeback; we can't wait to see you all in person to celebrate.

Thank you to all of our members for your support. We are here because of you. Please continue to join our events and share the experience with your friends and family even if they are outside Minnesota; that is the great advantage of having online events.

Rio Saito, JASM Executive Director

Upcoming: Know Me Kai: Welcoming New JASM Members

Welcome, new JASM Members. We miss you, long term members. Please join our Know Me Kai!

New Member Social 2020

Please join us for an online Know Me Kai event to welcome new JASM members on Thursday, June 10 from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm.

JASM will give away masks to the first 45 registrants of this event! They are the winning design of the Mask Up 2020, U.S.-Japan Face Mask Design Contest launched by the Japan Foundation for Global Partnership. Register today and get a mask! The mask can be picked up or mailed to you.

We encourage everyone to attend with your favorite refreshments at hand. This event will help you get to know JASM a little bit better and become acquainted with other Japan enthusiasts in Minnesota and surrounds. Know Me Kai is a play on the Japanese expression nomikai, the name of informal social gatherings which often involve drinking.

This is a JASM member-only event. Please register here. We are looking forward to meeting you online!

Mondale Scholarship 2021-2022 Suspended

The Mondale Scholarship Committee has decided to suspend the Mondale Scholarship for 2021–22 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. It has been very difficult to travel to Japan because of the pandemic-related restrictions, therefore we expect that the number of students being able to study in Japan this or the following year will be very low.

We are sorry for the students who planned to study in Japan 2021–22. We will be watching the development of the travel situation and we hope to be able to support students in 2022–23.

Easy Way to Give to JASM! by Sanae Tomita

JASM is the hub of our community. Even when we were stuck at home last year, JASM kept bringing us back together with fun activities and lectures online. Each of us supports JASM in one way or another, but did you know you can give back just by buying gift cards for your regular shopping through ShopWithScrip with no extra cost to you?

Since I read about this gift card fundraising in Tsushin, I've been an avid user of the RaiseRight mobile app. All I do is buy gift cards on my phone before making purchases necessary for everyday life. Every time I buy a gift card, a small portion of it goes to JASM. There are tons of stores and restaurants participating in this fundraising, so it should be easy for anyone to find their favorite shops.

When I buy groceries at Cub, I swipe the gift card I got through RaiseRight. The balance is updated on the app and I can reload the card anytime with my phone. When I shop at Home Depot, I pay with an e-gift card at checkout. I also bought an AMC e-gift card before buying tickets for the Demon Slayer movie online! E-gift cards are convenient because they are delivered directly to your phone about a few minutes after you purchase them.

For some stores, you can only buy physical gift cards. When I order physical gift cards for Holiday gas stations, I buy them with other JASM friends and let them to be sent to JASM to save the postal fee. You can meet up with JASM staff to receive them. It is also possible to send the cards directly to you if you cover the mailing cost.

Now that we are moving into the post-COVID world, how about adding RaiseRight to your new normal so you can support JASM with your everyday shopping? If you're having a family trip or a DIY project this summer, you could potentially raise a lot of money for JASM. Remember you're not just doing something good for JASM. You're doing it for yourself because JASM is there to support us and empower our Japanese community.

See more details including the code for JASM in this flyer.

Tom Haeg's Book Review

Dead Reckoning; Dick Lehr, Harper Press, 2021; 399 pages

Dick Lehr tells a mesmeric cat and mouse, David vs. Goliath, hunter vs. hunted story about code name "Operation Vengeance". Set in the Pacific Theatre during World War II, it is a narrative detailing the targeted killing of Japanese Imperial Navy Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto (the hunted) by Colonel Johnny Mitchell of the United States Army Air Corps (the hunter).

While there is a plethora of books on the subject, Dead Reckoning is distinguished. I initially assumed it was written by a military historian or West Point academic. Wrong and wrong. Mr. Lehr was a newspaper reporter for 30 years and currently is a journalism professor at Boston University. Intrigued, I called him on the phone. Amazed, he answered. Astonished, here's what I discovered. He went beyond the normal academic archival library research to go right to the source: shoe boxes.

Yup, dusty, old, reused shoe boxes. He walked right into the homes of the descendants of Colonel Mitchell in their Chicago homes to discover reposed shoe boxes chuck full of pictures and letters revealing the humanity of the combatants and the context of the action. Said in another way: Mr. Lehr had his hand on the pulse writing Dead Reckoning.

So, what did I learn? Johnny Mitchell, a fighter pilot hero of the Guadalcanal campaign, was a self-effacing man who deferred glory and notoriety to his wingmates. Admiral Yamamoto, architect of the attack on Pearl Harbor, was a cultured Harvard student with pro-Western ideals. Yet the real heroes were the U.S. Navy code-breaking cryptographers at Station Hypo in Hawaii who in anonymity successfully spied on Japanese communications to target Yamamoto.

Did the killing of Yamamoto end the War? Probably, not. Did it abbreviate it? Clearly, yes. Did it save lives? Absolutely.

Japanese Conversation Clubs

The Japanese Speaking Club is an informal meeting for those wishing to practice Japanese. We encourage those just beginning the language as well as native speakers to participate to meet new people, discuss experiences in Japan, or simply to speak Japanese.

This group currently meets regularly over Zoom. For more details, send an email to group coordinator Will Etkin: will.etkin"at"gmail.com

Check out another conversation group: Twin Cities Japanese Conversation Meetup Group (https://

www.twincitiesjapaneseconversation.com/)

Note: This is a private group. In order to join, a questionnaire must be completed at the web site linked above.

The goal of Twin Cities Japanese Conversation Meetup is language fluency in either Japanese or English. This group is for Japanese language learners who want to improve their Japanese speaking skills or/and native Japanese speakers who want to improve their English speaking. Those who just want to help out are also welcome.

Parts to the meetup: 自己紹介 (self-introductions), 質疑応答 (questions and answers about language) and 会話練習 (conversation practice).

Meetings: Edina (Monday), Minnetonka (Thursday), Saint Paul (Saturday).

Since March 16, 2020 the group is holding all meetings online.

For any question about this group, please email Mariquita Anderson: mariquita"at"twincitiesjapaneseconversation.com
